

Canine Encounters Law Enforcement Training for Law Enforcement Officers

by Subject Matter Expert Jim Osorio

HOSTING TRAINING REQUEST INFORMATION

Thank you for your curiosity in hosting our training with your agency.

There is no minimum required amount of officers for this training, but we do charge a flat rate fee of ($1250.00) paid for by the hosting agency.

WHAT WE REQUIRE OF A HOSTING AGENCY

Provide Training Course Location

All we need from you is a classroom type environment and some assistance in getting the information out. We coordinate all training participant enrollments from our office in Fort Worth, Texas. Therefore, we would not expect you to collect any fees for enrollment. However, we would require a point of contact at the training course location, to which we can refer attendees for location information. Prior to setting up the training you will be asked to provide us with a course location, address, point of contact, point of contact phone and email and a list of suggested area hotels. We will create a training announcement, post this information to our website and send you all the materials you would need to support the training course.

At the time of the training course we ask that you could provide the following:

- A classroom large enough to hold all participants.
- LCD Projector for our Power Point presentation.

Generate Course Attendance

As a hosting agency, we ask that you generate class attendance by contacting agencies within your area. When doing so, keep in mind that participants are usually willing to drive several hours to attend our training course. Contact could usually be made by telephone, email, mail, teletype or fax. We usually suggest you contact the agencies within your region.

What We Will Provide The Hosting Agency

Information, Instructor, Student Manuals and Materials

Once we have set a training date, we will provide you with a training announcement flyer containing the necessary training course information. Our Training Division will coordinate with one of our Instructors to teach the training course. Prior to the course the Training Division or one of our Instructors will contact you to make all the necessary arrangements. We will provide all course equipment and materials. Payment must be made before the training date. The hosting agency will be allowed as many students to attend that the classroom can attend, if the hosting agency decides on an open enrollment they will be allowed three (3) free seats into the class for providing the classroom.

Training Course Registration

We coordinate all training participant enrollments from our office in Fort Worth, Texas. We will post all course dates and locations on our website as soon as the date is set. Please direct all registrants to our website at www.canineencounters.org. Through the website, we have registration forms to assist in the registration process. Registrations can also be obtained through our Training Division via email at canineencounters@gmx.com or by calling the Training Division at (817) 825-9899.
